History of
St. Thomas' Evangelical Lutheran
---and---
Reformed Church
ALTONAH, PA.

Early Beginnings.

Man by nature is religious. The sense of worship is innate in the human heart. From the earliest times persons in every age have turned to some supreme object, personality, or spirit in the act of worship. It is possible to worship God anywhere, for God is everywhere. "The groves were God's first temples," Bryant said in his beautiful and immortal poem, "The Forest Hymn." However, coming down the ages in the history of mankind, the altar, the tabernacle, the temple, the synagogue, and the church have in turn become the place of worship.

Seventy-five years ago and more there crystallized in the minds and hearts of the Christian people living in and around the settlement of Altonah, Bethlehem Township, or the community on the Monocacy, the desire for a place of worship. Most of those persons were then members of the Lutheran and Reformed congregations at Hecktown, Shoenersville, and Farmersville. The distance to other churches made it exceedingly difficult to attend divine worship with any degree of regularity, especially for those who had no conveyances. Great inconveniences were experienced on funeral occasions. This feeling became stronger from time to time, until at last a general meeting of the Christian people of the community was called to consider the matter of erecting for themselves a house of worship.

Preliminary Meetings.

As appears from the records extant, in response to the call that was sent out, the first meeting convened in the home of Philip Ohl on January 1, 1848. After the meeting had been called to order Adam Bruch was elected to preside as President and Christian Anstette to act as Secretary. The object of the meeting was stated. After due and prayerful deliberation the meeting resolved unanimously to erect a house of worship, and by the grace of God the Altonah Church, originally known as the St. Thomas' Monocacy Church, was given birth. John Glaiss and Leopold Keim each agreed to donate one-half acre of ground upon which to erect the proposed church, the remainder being laid out as a place for the burial of the dead.

Subsequent meetings were called and held. There is no record of the time or the place of the meetings that followed, but the records available describe in detail the nature of the business transacted at those meetings. The people apparently were sincere and intensely in earnest. They had a mind to work. Several things, accomplished at the meetings that followed the first meeting at the home of Philip Ohl, stand out preeminently in the early beginnings of St. Thomas' Church.

One of these of which this history desires to make recognition is the organization of the congregations. The organization of the Lutheran congregation was effected February 5, 1848. Unfortunately the exact time of that important and significant event in the history of the Reformed congregation is nowhere indicated. However, while we do not know the exact date, we can know it approximately. It must have been soon after the first meeting at the residence of Philip Ohl, between January 1, 1848, and April 30, 1848, for such records as are in our possession state that a few weeks later, that is, after January 1, 1848, the Lutheran and Reformed congregations were formally and regularly organized.

Having decided to erect a place of worship, a building committee was appointed at one of these later meetings in the early history of the Altonah Church. That committee was composed of the following: George Moser, Leopold Keim, Joseph Glaiss, Philip Ohl, George Halteman, and Thomas Oberly. Adam Bruch was elected treasurer. A little later the number on the building committee was increased by the addition of the name of Daniel Heller.

The task was on. However, before active building operations were begun, subscription books were prepared, canvassers were appointed, and funds solicited. The results of the campaign for funds for the proposed church must have been gratifying indeed, for the subscriptions secured from members and friends and the offerings contributed at the Laying of the Corner Stone and the Dedication of the Church were just about sufficient to cover the cost of the original building. The church members themselves subscribed the sum of $1004.54½, while $168.47 was collected from friends and neighbors.

Laying of the Corner Stone.

With the approach of Spring the work of erecting the church was begun with great zeal and vigor. The foundation walls were soon constructed and as previously arranged the corner stone was laid with appropriate services on the 30th day of April, 1848. The ministers present and participating in the services were the Rev. Richards, of Easton, Rev. Henry A. Shultz, of Bethlehem, and Rev. Max Stern, of Farmersville. The offering on the occasion amounted to $71.35.

Dedication of the First Church.

About seven months later the desire of the Christian people residing in and around the community of Altonah was realized. The new church, erected at a cost of $1364.87½, was completed. They were months of anxious waiting, days of toil, prayer, and sacrifice. The foundation wall was made by Daniel Spriegel, the brickwork was done by James Daney, and the carpenter work by George W. Smith.

While all had a mind to work, the original records make mention in particular of the activities of the young men and women of the congregations in the erection of the first

St. Thomas' Church. They collected the funds required to secure the altar and pulpit vestments and to pay for the chancel chairs.

To the joy of all the new church was formally dedicated to the worship of the Triune God on Nov. 20, 1848. The occasion was fittingly observed with appropriate services. The following ministers were present and took part in the services: Revs. Richards, Lenhard, Wentzel, Helffrich, Stern, and Dubbs. The offering in connection with the dedicatory services amounted to $110.00. This offering, in addition to the subscriptions received from members and friends and the offering at the Corner Stone Laying, cleared the church of all indebtedness, a fact which must have been exceedingly gratifying to all the members.

Calling of the First Pastors.

All of us are naturally interested in first things. So we are interested in several of the first things in the life and experiences of the congregations of St. Thomas' Church, particularly the first pastors. Soon after the consecration of the church, each congregation called a pastor. The first pastor of the Lutheran congregation was the Rev. G. A. Wentzel and the first pastor of the Reformed congregation was the Rev. Max Stern.

In the original records there are also preserved for us the names of the members of the first Consistory and Council. The members of the first Consistory were: Elders,—Adam Bruch, James More, and Philip Ohl; Deacons,—Daniel Spriegel, Amandus Lerch, and Thomas Daney. The members of the first Council were: Elders,—John Young, Abraham Stoehr, and John Glaiss; Deacons,—Tobias Moser, Andrew Keim, and John Brown, Jr.

The first musical instrument used in the church was a melodian, but later the congregations secured a pipe organ at a cost of $1100. That instrument gave very acceptable service for a period of fifty-one years. It has been displaced during the current year, 1923, by a modern two manual Durner Organ.

The congregational records of the Reformed congregation state that the names of the communicants at the first three communions were lost. The first communion of the Reformed congregation of which there is a record was held October 25, 1851. Twenty-nine persons received the sacred elements. The first communion of the Lutheran congregation as it appears on the records was held May 6, 1849. Forty-eight persons received the sacred elements.

THE SECOND CHURCH.

After a period of forty-four years the first church apparently had outlived its usefulness as a place of worship. Gradually coming down the years the congregations developed a consciousness for a new house of worship. The old was no longer adequate for the needs and activities of the growing congregations.

Accordingly a congregational meeting was called in 1892 to take some action regarding the desire for a new church. At that meeting it was decided to tear down the old church and to build the Lord a better and more convenient sanctuary. At that same meeting a building committee, consisting of George Applegate, Edward Halteman, John E. Kemmerer, Jacob D. Metzgar, Alfred L. Keim, Milton H. Koehler, William M. Dilliard, John Balliet, James W. More, and George M. Warner, was elected to supervise the construction of the new building.

Work on the new church was begun in April of 1892 with much interest and great enthusiasm. On the 5th day of the following June, 1892, the corner stone was laid by the pastors of the congregations, the Rev. D. F. Brendle, D. D., and the Rev. W. D. C. Keiter, D. D. Appropriate services were conducted. Visiting pastors present and taking part in the services were the following: Revs. Lindenstruth, Schoener, Lobach, and More. The offering amounted to $41.80.

The congregations being without a house of worship, operations on the new church were carried on with all possible speed. By December the basement was completed and was dedicated on December 4, 1892. Rev. D. F. Brendle preached in the morning, Rev. Markley in the afternoon, and Rev. Rothtrock in the evening. The act of consecration was performed by the pastors, Revs. Brendle and Keiter.

Five months later the second St. Thomas' Church was completed. It was formally dedicated to the service of the Triune God on May 7, 1893. Revs. Ziegenfuss, Spieker, Horne, Lobach, More, and Wotring participated in the solemn yet joyous and happy services of that day. The offering contributed on the occasion amounted to $117.42.

A great deal of the work on the new building was done by the members of the congregations. For the information of posterity, it may not be amiss to state that the foundation walls were made by Modest Birke, the brickwork and plastering was done by Simon Brewer, and the carpentering by James Kemmerer. The entire cost of the new building amounted to about $10,000. A similar building could scarcely be erected today for less than $30,000 or $35,000. Many favorable comments have been made on the church. Records in our possession state that many have said of it, "It is, without question, one of the most beautiful and best appointed churches in the county, and reflects great credit upon the congregations, which worship within its hallowed walls."

IMPROVEMENTS IN 1897.

St. Thomas' Church has never stood still. It has always had a forward look. In keeping with that spirit decided improvements were brought about in 1897. Perhaps foremost among these was the installation of a Blymer bell in the church tower. This bell, which has summoned the community to worship on every Lord's Day for the past 26 years, was placed in the tower in June, 1897, at a cost of about $135, under the supervision of Trustees Metzgar and Bruch.

In the Fall of 1897, in the month of November, the interior of the church was beautifully frescoed at a cost of $270. The church was reopened for divine worship with simple but appropriate services on November 14, 1897. Among those who assisted the pastors on that occasion were Revs. Wackernagle, Lambert, Bieber, More, and Wotring.

REV. H. J. EHRET

The officers of the congregations while these improvements were made were the following: Elders Edward B. Schnable, John W. George, and George M. Warner, and Deacons Amandus Fatzinger, Clinton C. Koehler, and George H. Moyer, of the Church Council, and Elders Charles Rockel, Charles Musselman, and Reuben Kemmerer, and Deacons John Balliet, Milton Bruch, and Samuel Erich, of the Consistory.

During the seventy-five years of their history the congregations have been served by the following organists: David Rothtrock, Francis Hess, James Heller, Peter Bender, Ephraim Luch, James M. Hess, Theodore F. Hess, and Miss Estella Snyder, the present incumbent, who has served with much efficiency for the past 18 years.

The Fiftieth Anniversary.

October 29th and 30th, 1898, mark an eventful occasion in the history of St. Thomas' Church, Altonah. On those days the semi-centennial of the church was celebrated with appropriate services.

Three services were held in connection with the Jubilee occasion. On Saturday evening, October 29, services were held in the church in commemoration of the departed dead. This solemn and impressive service held on the eve of Jubilee Day was largely attended by members and friends of the congregations. Pastors Brendle and Keiter had charge of the services. Interesting addresses were delivered by the Rev. James Lambert, of Catasauqua, and the Rev. W. H. Wotring, D. D., of Nazareth.

The main service of this festal occasion was held on Sunday morning, October 30th. Heavy laden clouds overcast the sky and rain fell at intervals. However, notwithstanding the unpropitious weather, people were early astir and by 10 o'clock a goodly number had assembled in the place of worship. The interior of the church had been prepared in jubilee dress and the pretty floral decorations were attractive features of the occasion. The service was in charge of pastors Brendle and Keiter and the jubilee sermons were preached by the Rev. Daniel E. Schoedler and by the Rev. J. W. Mayne. According to reports of this festal occasion a striking feature was carried out in connection with this service. During the recital of the Lord's Prayer, at the close of the service, the church bell was rung, so that all absent ones, either through sickness or otherwise, within sound of the bell, could follow in repeating the prayer.

Another service was held in the afternoon. It was largely attended. At this service there was a reunion of the catechumens confirmed in the church since 1848. Happy, appropriate, and encouraging addresses were delivered by the Rev. E. L. Miller and the Rev. W. F. More, D. D.

A fourth service had been arranged but on account of the weather conditions and the heavy roads this service was postponed until Sunday, November 13th, in the afternoon. No account of that postponed service was available for this historical record.

More Recent History.

There are also some interesting events in the more recent history of St. Thomas' church. These events were marked in the main by the installation of modern conveniences like a central heating plant, electric lights, chairs in the Sunday School rooms, and a varied equipment for social functions.

In the period of the more recent history of St. Thomas' Church the year 1913 perhaps is outstanding. During the Spring and early Summer months of that year the church was entirely renovated. Extensive repairs were made and new furnishings were provided. The entire church was repainted interior and exterior. The roof was strengthened, the inside walls were refrescoed, and new carpet placed on the floors. The funds required to pay for these renovations and improvements were secured by subscriptions. The church was reopened for services on Sunday, July 20, 1913, with three services morning, afternoon and evening. The following pastors were present and participated in the reopening services: Revs. W. H. Wotring, D. D., W. D. C. Keiter, D. D., C. A. Butz, Ph. D., H. S. Kline, W. H. Erb, D. D., J. A. Klick, L. D. Lazarus, and W. F. More, D. D.

A few years later, in 1916, the church was provided with electric lights. For these the congregations are indebted to the prayerful efforts and the consecrated toils of the Ladies' Aid Society, which was organized some time prior. With the installation of this modern convenience the congregations took a distinctive step forward. It added very materially to the equipment of the church and ministered to the comfort of the worshippers at the evening services. The expense incurred in making this improvement, amounting to $495.72, was borne entirely by the Ladies' Aid Society. These lights were formally consecrated November 8, 1916. The addresses on that occasion were delivered by the Rev. J. H. Orr and the Rev. George J. Laubach.

The latest forward step in the material progress of St. Thomas' Church was the purchase of additional grounds joining the property on the east and south. These grounds, comprising about $1\frac{1}{2}$ acres, were secured at a cost of \$1000. During the years 1922 and 1923 these grounds were beautified by grading and by the planting of trees and shrubbery. In the course of time it is hoped that these grounds will increase parking facilities and provide room for social functions of various kinds. In providing the funds for the purchase of this additional ground and the trees and shrubbery the Sunday School and the Ladies' Aid Society joined with the congregations. During these latter years, when these additional grounds were purchased, the church was incorporated and a charter secured.

In these days, when so much is said and written about the decline of the rural church, it can be said of St. Thomas' Church that it has more than held its own. It has actually grown, extensively and intensively, and its opportunities for continued service in larger measure in the future are brighter, more numerous, and more encouraging than ever before.

ORGANIZATIONS OF THE CHURCH.

The Sunday School.

During the last decade St. Thomas' Church has become pretty well organized. Four live and active auxiliaries are affiliated with the congregations. Among these the oldest is the Sunday School. The members of the congregations early realized the value of religious education. For this purpose they gathered together on Easter Monday, April 21, 1862, with the pastors and members of the Church Council and Consistory. At that meeting the following resolutions were adopted:

(1) That a Sunday School should be organized. (2) That the sessions of the Sunday School be held in the church building. (3) That there be appointed two Superintendents, one from each congregation, respectively appointed by the Church Council of the congregation with the consent of the pastors. (4) That there be appointed also a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Librarian. (5) That the following books be used in the Sunday School: the Bible, the catechisms of the two churches, books for beginners, Hymn books, German Sunday School Hymn books published by Rev. S. N. Brobst, English Hymns and Chants published by the Sunday School of St. John's congregation, Lebanon, Pa. (6) That no one can be a teacher but a regular communicant member of the German Reformed or Evangelical Lutheran congregations. At this meeting subscriptions for the purchase of books was received. The amount subscribed was $16.

A general invitation was extended to the parents and the children to meet in the church at 2 p. m. on Sunday, May 4, 1862, for the purpose of organizing the Sunday School. The organization of the Sunday School of St. Thomas' Church, therefore, dates back to May 4, 1862. At that organization meeting Renatus Luch and James B. More were chosen Superintendents, E. T. Harzell Secretary, Thomas Herman Treasurer, and James D. Woodring Librarian.

However, from such sources of information as are available, it seems that the early history of the Sunday School was not all smooth sailing. There were days of cloud and rain. The work was new and difficult. Interest and enthusiasm lagged. Accordingly the work was carried on for some years with indifferent success. However, hope did not give up. As the years passed on a strong feeling developed for a church school where the children of the congregations might be instructed from Sunday to Sunday in moral and religious truth. Thus, on June 8, 1873, a reorganization was effected, and from that time the Sunday School of St. Thomas' Church seems to have become infused with a new life.

Among the more prominent workers of those early days in the history of the Sunday School were George Applegate, William Heller, Wilson More, James Heller, George Metzgar, and many others whose names are still cherished as faithful and consecrated teachers and loyal and devoted officers of the school. George Applegate, Wilson More, and George Metzgar were successive superintendents. Since then others, including the following, have stood at the head of the school: John Horning, Irwin Luch, Alvin Koehler, Theodore Hess, George Schiffert, Manasses Scheirer, Charles Schwartz, Myron Luch, Geo. H. Moyer, Charles Lucas, Thomas Hess, Robert Hess, Asher Lerch, Russell Keiper, and Truman Koehler.

The modern Sunday School of St. Thomas' Church has the ear-marks of efficiency. It is well organized and graded. Three departments are maintained,—the elementary, the intermediate, and the adult with the Junior and Senior organized Bible classes. A cradle roll and home department are also successfully maintained. Several classes have been graduated in Teacher Training. The present membership of the Sunday School, including the cradle roll and home department, is 320.

The Sunday School has been a faithful child of the church. With loving heart and willing hand she has always co-operated with the church in every good work and cause. For years she annually presented the church with a gift at Christmas. In the improvements of the later years, like the remodelling of the church, the securing of additional ground, the purchase of trees, and so forth, the Sunday School has always given the congregations substantial financial support. The best evidence of her interest and loyalty of late years was her pledge of $1000 to the new pipe organ. The Sunday School has also had a heart for the larger things of the kingdom. She contributes regularly to the support of the Orphans' Homes and Sunday School Missions of the congregations. The Forward Movement campaigns of both congregations received splendid support. Besides, as opportunities presented themselves, she contributed to other causes worthy of support.

The Ladies' Aid Society.

Another auxiliary or organization affiliated with St. Thomas' Church is the society of the Ladies' Aid. It dates its birth to May 2, 1913. For some time prior to 1913 there was a feeling abroad among many that there was a distinct sphere of activity and a specific field of service for the women of the congregations. In keeping with that conviction a meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the entire matter. There was a generous response to the invitation that went out; many of the representative women of the congregations attended the meeting; and out of it there came the Ladies' Aid. An organization was effected by the election of the following officers: President, Mrs. Jacob D. Metzgar; Vice-President, Mrs. William A. Sterner; Secretary, Mrs. Wilbert C. M. Best; and Treasurer, Mrs. William H. Best.

While a comparatively young organization, having just passed its tenth birthday last May, the Ladies' Aid has proved itself an organization of much energy and great usefulness. It would be difficult to name a single instance among the improvements of the church in the last ten years in which the Ladies' Aid did not have a part. Like the Sunday School it co-operated with the congregations in every good work and cause. As is recorded elsewhere in this history the electric lights, which have meant so much, were purchased, installed, and paid for entirely by the Ladies' Aid at an expenditure of $495.75. At various other times it made donations of money to the church. When the chancel vestments were procured, when the floors were covered with new carpets, when equipment was needed for social functions, when the new grounds were purchased, in fact, whenever renovations or alterations were made to the property, liberal contributions came from the Ladies' Aid. It stands pledged for $300 for the new pipe organ and has expressed its willingness to contribute more, if need be. In the ten years of its history it has raised about $2000 of which amount it has contributed to the church $1280.68.

The Ladies' Aid Society, however, has been of great usefulness not only to the local church but also to the larger claims of the kingdom. The orphans in particular have had a large place in its heart. Both the home at Topton and also at Womelsdorf have been visited by the Ladies' Aid and its friends, and liberal donations of money, food, and clothing have been made.

The present officers of the Society are: President, Mrs. George Warner; Vice-President, Mrs. Milton Keiper; Secretary, Mrs. Alvin O. Koehler; and Treasurer, Mrs. William H. Best. Mrs. Milton Koehler and Mrs. Charles Stoudt have also served as President.

The Lu-Hi Society.

Among the various organizations of St. Thomas' Church the Lu-Hi Society occupies a position of considerable importance. Many have wondered as to the meaning of the name of this society. Others, in their zeal for other organizations, even have criticized it, pretending that the Society does not stand for that which its name indicates. The Lu stands for the Luther League of the Lutheran Church and the Hi for the Heidelberg League of the Reformed Church. The name is very suggestive, therefore. While all are eligible to membership as far as age goes, the Lu-Hi aims to do the work that usually falls within the scope of the work of the young people.

While in one sense the Lu-Hi is a distinctive organization, in another sense it is the outgrowth of an earlier society. As early as January 29, 1907, the young people of the congregations had banded themselves together in an organization known as the Y. P. A. The first officers of this organization were the following: President, N. J. Newhard; Vice-President, Laura M. Laubach; Secretary, W. C. M. Best; Assistant Secretary, Annie M. Kemmerer; Treasurer, T. J. Hess; Board of Managers, John Frommer, Robert Schmale, and Robert Hess.

For many years this society was quite active. It met regularly at stated times in the Altonah School House on the pike. In its membership were included many of the young people of the congregations and the community. It functioned mostly along the line of the social and literary conducting spelling bees, debates, and entertainments. The writer recalls many pleasant and happy entertainments of the Y. P. A. While not a distinctively church organization, the acts and proceedings of the Y. P. A. as preserved in the minutes indicate that the society was in sympathy and co-operated with the church and Sunday School in various activities. Many contributions were made by it to various church improvements.

Out of this earlier society the Lu-Hi has come. With the growing conviction that a larger place should be given to the religious the Lu-Hi Society was organized. The date of organization is Feb. 2, 1921. The officers elected at the organization were the following: President, T. J. Hess; Vice-President, Earl Moyer; Secretary, Minnie C. Bachman; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. John Jacobs; Treasurer, Howard Schwartz; Board of Managers, Howard Stauffer, Sadie Koehler, Daisy Koehler.

While still a babe the Lu-Hi has given evidence of much energy and ability. It subscribed $400 to the new pipe organ fund.

The Woman's Missionary Society.

Last but not least among the auxiliary organizations is the Woman's Missionary Society. This organization was the answer to a prayer in the heart and on the lips of some of the women of the congregations. It was organized January 25, 1922. The first officers of the Society were the following: President, Mrs. V. J. Bauer; Vice-President, Mrs. H. J. Ehret; Recording Secretary, Ruth Frable; Lutheran Statistical Secretary, Mrs. John Jacobs; Reformed Statistical Secretary, Mrs. William Stecker; Treasurer, Mrs. Laura Best; Organist, Miriam F. Ehret; Assistant Organist, Florence Smith. In its short history there has been no change in the officers up to the present time with the exception of the President and the Vice-President, Mrs. H. J. Ehret having become President and Mrs. V. J. Bauer Vice-President.

The growth of this society has been phenomenal. Its present membership numbers 64. Likewise its growth has been wonderful in its activities. The society soon related and adjusted itself to the classical and conference societies. Delegates are sent regularly to the conventions. The meetings are well attended and splendid programs are rendered. In its brief history a study class in Missions has been conducted each year during the Lenten Season. Several missionaries direct from the foreign field have addressed the society in the past. By the grace of God this society will be a tremendous influence in the experience of the congregations for the extension of the kingdom unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

The Seventy-Fifth Anniversary.

About a year and a half ago steps were taken for the proper celebration of this historic occasion. At the annual congregational meeting, held on January 1, 1923, the proper observance of this occasion was referred to a committee, consisting of the pastors, the Council and the Consistory. After due deliberation the week of October 28, 1923, was selected for the celebration. It was soon felt that there should be some special expression of gratitude for the wonderful blessings of seventy-five years and the purchase and installment of a new pipe organ at a cost of $5000 was made the objective of the anniversary occasion.

Two services were conducted on Sunday, October 28, one in the morning and one in the evening. The speakers included the Rev. W. D. C. Keiter, D. D., a former pastor, Rev. W. F. More, D. D., Rev. Howard Pauls, and Rev. George J. Laubach, the last three sons of the congregations. The service on Tuesday evening was attended by the pastors of the Lutheran and Reformed congregations of the city. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. P. A. Laury and the Rev. Z. A. Yearick, D. D. Wednesday evening was observed as organization evening. Revs. F. F. Gehr, D. D., W. H. Wotring, D. D., F. R. Shafer, and L. D. Lazarus delivered the addresses. The anniversary services were concluded with an organ recital on Thursday evening by Professor D. G. Samuels. The church was appropriately decorated for all the services.

- 24 Crescendo Pedal operating all stops.
- 25 Balanced Swell Pedal.

Concaved and radiating Pedal Keyboard.

Tilting Tablets placed over the Manuals controlling stop Action.

Electric Action is employed throughout the whole organ. A one-horse power Electric Blower and Motor furnishes ample power for all demands of the Organ. A 10 volt Generator supplies current for Organ Action and Chimes.

The construction and materials of the entire Organ are of the highest grade, with special attention to the Voicing of each stop.

The Choir

This history would be incomplete without a reference to the men and women who compose the choir. St. Thomas' Church has had splendid choirs in the past. The present choir association is no exception, giving to the congregations not only its talent, ability, and service from Sunday to Sunday, but also subscribing to the new pipe organ the sum of $300. The present members of the choir are the following: Florence Smith, Florence Lucas, Emma Balliet, Mary Young, Eva Young, Sadie Koehler, Pearl Warner, Leah Druckenmiller, Ruth Frable, Edith Newhard, Herst Frable, Harvey Stecker, Wilbur Dilliard, Howard Schwartz, Truman Koehler, and Earl Moyer. Estella Snyder is the efficient leader.

Conclusion.

These are outstanding incidents as they were available to the writer of the long and honored history of St. Thomas' Church, Altonah. No doubt a great deal more could be said of the silent but effective spiritual forces and influences emanating through these seventy-five years from the preaching of the gospel and the administration of the sacraments on the individual life of the members and on the community in general. We are grateful for the work of the fathers. We appreciate our opportunities for service in this day and generation. We lift our eyes to the hills whence our strength cometh in the future. The same God and Father, who has been the help of St. Thomas' in the years that are gone, is also her hope for the years that are to come.

“O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Beneath the shadow of Thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone
And our defense is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away;
They fly forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.”

RESTING PLACES OF THE DEPARTED DEAD.

The Grave Yard.

The oldest burial place of St. Thomas' Church is the Grave Yard adjoining the church building on the south. As appears elsewhere in this history the ground for this purpose was originally donated by Leopold Keim and John Glaiss. Efforts are put forth by the congregation constantly to keep this hallowed spot in excellent condition. The management of the Grave Yard is supervised by a Superintendent elected by the congregations.

The Cemetery.

This burial place was first laid out in the summer of 1884. It is owned by an association composed chiefly of members of St. Thomas' Church and is controlled by a board of directors elected by the lot owners for the term of three years.

The cemetery was first suggested by Charles Warner from whom the ground for the cemetery was purchased. It is a most desirable location for this purpose. The number of white memorials on it and the many green mounds tell how many have found a final resting place in it. In the past few years the cemetery has been enlarged several times by the purchase of additional ground. The present officers of the association are the following: President, Milton H. Koehler; Secretary, Charles A. Lucas; Treasurer, J. D. Metzgar; Superintendent, George M. Warner; Assistant Superintendent, Joseph Bruch. These officers together with Reuben Kemmerer constitute the Board of Directors.

A list of the names of those buried in the Grave Yard and the cemetery is appended. The committee to whom the preparation of this list was entrusted have examined the congregational records and tomb stones on the Grave Yard and the Cemetery and believe that the list is a true and correct record as near as could be ascertained.
